Admissions Updates

If you have Summer I and/or Summer II applications that have no decision posted, you should either deny them, or contact graduate_applications@ncsu.edu to request that they be moved to a future term for consideration later. As we approach the start of Fall 2019, you should also begin this process with those applications.

Graduate Conditional Admission

Academically competitive international students who do not meet the current English proficiency requirements can now be admitted conditionally to a graduate program through the Intensive English Program. If you are interested in having any of your Masters or PhD programs eligible for this option, please contact Karin Sandler, Director of the Intensive English Program (kmsandler@ncsu.edu) BEFORE admitting any students conditionally. She will explain how these conditionally-admitted students can fulfill their English proficiency requirements and work with you to create flyers advertising this option.

IEP Part-Time Enrollment

Part-time English language instruction is now available to members of the NC State community and the surrounding area through the Intensive English Program (IEP). NC State departments and programs seeking additional instruction and support for their international visiting scholars and researchers can now directly sponsor employees for this supplemental training. Courses are affordable and currently cost $15 per contact hour. All IEP classes are conveniently located on Hillsborough Street across from D.H. Hill Jr. Library.
